THE MONDAY REPORT

SHELTON STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

JUNIOR COLLEGE DIVISION 202 SKYLAND BLVD. TUSCALOOSA, AL 35405

FINAL DAY FOR TICKETS FOR BYE BYE BIRDIE

Tuscaloosa.....The final day for ticket sales to the dinner theatre production of "Bye Bye Birdie" will be Monday, May 12. The dinner theatre production will be held at the junior college division of Shelton State on Friday, May 16, at 7 p.m.

However, the Thursday night performance of the '50's musical will be on Thursday, May 15, at 8 p.m. and will not include dinner. Tickets for this performance are on sale now and will continue through the evening of the performance.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is being presented by the music department of Shelton State Community College in cooperation with the Shelton State Alumni Association and is one of the most captivating musical shows of our time.

"Bye Bye Birdie" tells the story of a rock and roll singer who is about to be inducted into the army. The singer, Conrad Birdie, is an Elvis Presley type.

Appearing in the cast are Buddy Wilcox as Conrad Birdie. Albert, Buddy's agent, is Steve Seale. The faithful secretary Rose Grant will be played by Jackie Foster. Kim MacAfee, the typical All American girls chosen for a kiss by Conrad is played by Leah Hamner.

Other members of the cast indlude: Mrs. Peterson, Dena Pearson; Mrs. MacAfee, Dawn Jones; Mr, MacAfee, Bennie Ford; Randi MacAfee, Dannielle Wood; Hugo, Mike Skelton; Rusula, Suzanne Rowland; Margie, Karen Taylor; Nancy, Michele Gee; Deborah Sue, Khristi Spruill; Alice, Jennifer Sherfield; Charles F. Maude, Kevin Brown; Harvey, John Thornton; Mayor, Ted Huddleston; Edna, Judy Austin; Mrs, Merkle, Tracey Price; Phyllis, Mickie Fleming; Lee Alan Blackshear; Sad Little Girl, Jenny Ryan; Guitar Man, Herman Harrold; John, Jeff Miller; Ethel, Patsy Mitchell; Gloria, Khristi Spruill.

To order tickets, contact Shelton State, 759-1541. Tickets for the dinner theatre production are $12 and $4 for the Thursday night production.

SHELTON CORSAIRS RANKED NINTH IN NATION

The Shelton State Corsairs tallied 183 points this year, making them the ninth ranked team in the United States.

Dr. Bruce Bizzoco, Corair coach, said that while he is pleased with the standing it is somewhat misleading. "Since the NJCAA does not hold a national championship for fencing, and the NCAA is for four-year colleges, the club rankings are the only standards by which we can be judged," Bizzoco said.

The top ten fencing clubs in the country are: Cleveland Alcazar, first; Fairfield Co., second; N.J. Salle Santelli, third; University of Pennsylvania, fourth; New York Salle Santelli, fifth; Montgomery, sixth; Notre Dame, seventh; Columbia, eight; Shelton State, ninth; Portland, Auriol, tenth.

Shelton State Plans Women in the Twenty-First Century Conference

TUSCALOOSA.....Two Alabama women involved in the political structure of the state will be the keynote speakers for the conference, "Women in the Twenty-First Century," scheduled for May 13-14 at Shelton State Community College.

Judge Barbara Woodley Mountain of the Sixth Judicial Circuit, Place #1, and Senator Ann Bedsole, R-Mobile, will be the main speakers at the conference sponsored by the colllege's Sex Equity program, according to project director Lucy Kubiszyn.

The purpose of the conference is to focus on career options, especially those considered nontraditional, which will be available to women in the year 2000 and to examine the various areas of women's lives during the next 20-30 years. In addition, according to Kubiszyn, the conference will offer women in this area the opportunity to network with other women who have the same goals and interests for their lives.

Judge Mountain is scheduled to talk on Tuesday, May 13, at 9:30 a.m. at the college. At 11 a.m. Susan Forte of Jacksonville, Florida, and a finalist in the Nasa Teacher in Space Program, will speak on "Women in Space."

A luncheon will be held at O'Riley's Restaurant at noon. Edie Hand of AMI West Alabama and "Pearl" of Pearl 'n Paw, television commercials will be the speaker. Ms. Hand has recently returned from New York City where she appeared on "Good Morning, America." The luncheon will be open to all conference participants.

Four concurrent sessions will be held from 1:30 p.m. - 2:30 p.m. and from 3-4 p.m. Each conference participant may select two sessions to attend.

Heidi Hattaway, nutritionist, Division of General and Preventive Medicine, University of Alabama in Birmingham, will speak on "Will an Apple a Day Still Keep the Doctor Away?"

Marjorie Fine Knowles, professor of Law, the University of Alabama, will talk about "Women and the Law."

Isabel Moore, president of Academic and Management Consultants of Montgomery, Alabama, will talk about "Will the Home and Family Still Be Important?"

The final session will be by Gayle Zumpany, investment advisor of Tuscaloosa, who will inform participants on "How Much Will Money Matter?"

A wine and cheese party will be held at 4:30 p.m. at O" Riley's restaurant as part of the conference.

Sen. Bedsole will lead off the conference on Wednesday, May 14 at 9:30 a.m. as the keynote speaker.

A panel discussion will be held at 11 a.m. on the subject "Women's Work." Shelton State speech instructor Linda Mason will be the panel moderator. Others on the panel are Eranell McIntosh Wilson, director of Region II, Partlow State School; Ann Montgomery, vice president, West Alabama Bottling Company; Dr. Rhoda Johnson, acting director, University of Alabama, Women Studies Program; Mary Allen Jolley, director of economic and community development, the University of Alabama.

The fee for the two day conference is $20 and includes all of the sessions, materials, lunch and the wine and cheese party.